Find your passion and put it to work: Diller Teens for Tzedek Fellowship

Diller Teens for Tzedek Fellowship is a prestigious national program that supports high school sophomores and juniors to develop leadership skills and commitment to service. Alumni of the program say it's "the best preparation for college and beyond"!

The program runs from January to October and includes eight monthly events, three interactive weekend retreats, a community service program of your own design, weeklong hosting of Israel teen partners, and a three week cultural exchange in Israel. You'll be in a class of 20 local teens of different backgrounds and interests, learning and growing together as leaders and as Jews.

The cost for Diller Teen Fellows is $2,500. Applications are accepted from September until December 12th, with interviews being held on a rolling basis. Participants are selected based on their leadership aptitude, commitment to Jewish learning, interest in connecting to Israel, passion for service, and ability to contribute to a diverse group.

The Diller Teens for Tzedek Fellowship is generously supported by the Helen Diller Family Foundation, Frieze Family Foundation, Combined Jewish Philanthropies' Boston-Haifa Connection, and generous contributions from individuals in the community.
